Who we are

We are:

Healthy Hands is the outreach arm of Healthy Real Estate & Associates, made up of clients, agents, neighbors, and friends who come together to serve those facing challenges at home. Whether it's a single parent needing help with a move, an elderly neighbor whose yard needs care, or a family overwhelmed by home repairs—they're not alone.

We are:

- Helpers—ready to roll up our sleeves and meet practical needs with humility and care.
- Connectors—bringing people together across backgrounds to create real, relational impact.
- Believers—in the power of service to restore dignity, hope, and stability to every home we touch.

• We are:

We're neighbors serving neighbors—one small act of kindness at a time. We show up. We step in. We lend a hand.

What we do

We provide:

- Volunteer-powered home assistance (yard work, minor repairs, organization, etc.)
- A nomination system for identifying individuals or families in need
- Regularly scheduled service days to bring help and hope directly to the doorstep

We're not a construction crew. We're not a charity. We're neighbors serving neighbors.

Why we do it:

We serve because:

- We're a people-first company, and service is how we live that out.
- Home is more than a roof—it's a refuge.
When we care for people's homes, we care for their well-being.

Community thrives when we show up for each other. By lending a hand, we build stronger, more connected neighborhoods.

"Together, we're creating a movement where real estate meets real impact—one home, one neighbor, one act of service at a time."
